PRACTICE AREAS

Arne Torsten Andersen has experience from both private and public sector, and he has extensive EU/EEA experience from the EFTA Surveillance Authority (ESA) in Brussels where he worked with EEA law, including public procurement for over five years.

Andersen is especially specialized in public procurement and he is ranked as one of the three best lawyers for public procurement in Finansavisens annual ranking of Norwegian lawyers for 2016 and 2015.

After he graduated as cand. jur. in 2000 (including a specialization in the EU / EEA law), he earned a masters degree at the University of Amsterdam in 2001 with further specialization in EU law. He also has extensive experience from his work as a lawyer in Norway, specializing in EEA law. This provides Andersen with more than 15 years of specialized work experience with every part of EEA law, in particular public procurement, competition and state aid. He has as a lawyer in one of Norway's most renowned business law firm BA-HR, also worked extensively with general business law, including agreements and contract law.

Andersen has extensive experience from working in and with the public sector, both as an employee and as provider of legal advice. Within his fields of expertise, Andersen is largely assisting government clients and publicly owned companies. He is thus familiar with the specific considerations that apply in such bodies.
